CoreTech International, Inc. Files Suit Against Core Systems, LLC for Trademark Infringement

Alpha, NJ: Friday May 13, 2011 - CoreTech International, Inc. announced that it has filed a federal trademark lawsuit in United States District Court for the District of Eastern Pennsylvania against Core Systems, LLC, a Michigan company. CoreTech has been active in all areas of the core cutting industry since 2009. CoreTech International's personnel have over 100 years combined experience in core cutting machinery and core handling systems.

The three-count Complaint alleges that Core Systems of Michigan is infringing CoreTech International's trademark in the CoreTech name, among other things.

"This issue will be resolved in a court of law," said Mo El Banna, CEO of CoreTech International. "Our attorneys and I are confident that we will prevail."

The CoreTech International team has been in hundreds of plants throughout the country over the past two years providing parts, services, and manufacturing of core cutting machines. Larry Green, VP of Sales said, "Our customers can rest assured that they can continue to rely on CoreTech International to provide the same value and expertise they have learned to expect from us."

Founded in 2009, CoreTech International, Inc. is located in Alpha, New Jersey, and can be found at <http://coretechinternational.com/>

Sincerely,

Mo El Banna
